

THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

PIRACY OR PARODY: COMING THROUGH THE RYE STILL BANNED IN THE USA?

Register online at:

www.ipria.org

DATE AND TIME:

Thursday 8 October 2009

6:00 - 7:30pm

(Registration and Refreshments from 5:30pm)

VENUE:

Melbourne Law School,
The University of Melbourne,
185 Pelham Street
Carlton, Victoria

RSVP:

Michelle Wilson

IPRIA

Alan Gilbert Building
University of Melbourne
Email: info@ipria.org

PRICE:

Free of charge

CLOSING DATE:

Tuesday 6 October 2009

Continuing Professional Development

Professional Standards Board

The Professional Standards Board for Patent and Trade Marks Attorneys has advised that attendance at this seminar will enable Patent and Trade Marks Attorneys to claim 1 CPE point.

In July this year, JD Salinger, author of the classic The Catcher in the Rye, sued Frederik Colting who writes as John David California and his publisher for their unauthorised sequel Coming Through the Rye. Colting is now appealing from the preliminary injunction awarded in the US District Court. On appeal Calabresi J commented that Coming Through the Rye was a 'rather dismal piece of work if I may say so', but there is a chance that the injunction will be overturned. In the meantime, the book is widely available through bookshops in the UK, Australia and elsewhere as well as (of course) on the internet. Taking Salinger v Colting as the starting point, this seminar will consider both legal and literary aspects of unauthorised sequels.

Speakers

Shaun Miller

Partner, Marshalls & Dent Lawyers.

http://www.mdlaw.com.au/shaun_EL.htm

Colin Golvan SC

Victorian Bar and author on copyright, writers and law.

<http://www.mcnaught.com.au/barristers.cfm?action=37>

Ken Gelder

Professor of English, School of Culture and Communications, University of Melbourne.

<http://www.culture-communication.unimelb.edu.au/people/ken-gelder.html>

Chair

Megan Richardson

Professor, Melbourne Law School

Deputy Director of the Centre for Media and Communications Law and Associate Director Law of the Intellectual Property Research Institute of Australia.